Click here to return to the article Subjects Language Arts Technology Social Sciences U.S. History Grades Brief Description Students learn about inventions created by African Americans and complete a worksheet about the information learned. Objectives Students define the words invention, inventor, and patent; demonstrate ability to research information about African American inventors, using Internet or library print sources; use the information to correctly complete a work sheet about African American inventors and their inventions. Keywords African American, inventors, inventions, information, reading comprehension Materials Needed Lesson Plan Discuss the meanings of the words invention, inventor, and patent. Tell students that African Americans invented many of the devices we use today and used in the past. Provide each student with a copy of the Education World teaching master African American Inventors and Inventions and copies of printouts from Index of African American Inventors. Have students use information on the Partial List of African American Inventors Web page to complete the worksheet. Variation for younger students: Work together as a class to complete the worksheet. Variation for older students: Organize students into small groups. Tell students they must use print sources only, such as library books, magazines, or textbooks, to find the answers to the questions on the worksheet. Extensions for older students: Have students research additional inventions developed by African Americans from Fourteen Famous African American Inventors Black Inventors A to Z Have students use print or online sources to learn background information about some of the inventors on those Web pages. Assessment Evaluate students' worksheet answers. ANSWER KEY: 1. True, 2. True, 3. False, 4. True, 5. False, 6. True, 7. True, 8. False, 9. True, 10. True. Lesson Plan Source Education World Submitted By Lois Lewis Last updated 1/10/2017 Social Security touches the lives of every American, both directly and indirectly. Social Security helps older Americans, workers who become disabled, wounded warriors, and families in which a spouse or parent dies. In 2021, about 176 million people work and pay Social Security taxes and about 65 million people receive monthly Social Security benefits. With retirement, disability, and survivors benefits, we improve the quality of life for millions throughout life's journey. Most parents apply for a child's Social Security number at birth, usually through the hospital. When the time comes for that first job, the number is already in place. A fun benefit of assigning Social Security numbers at birth is that we know the most popular baby names, which we announce each year. On our website, you can find the top baby names for the last 100 years. From your first job to your last, your employer verifies your Social Security number with us to help reduce fraud and allow you to keep track of your earnings history to ensure you get the benefits you deserve. Employers collect FICA, or Federal Insurance Contributions Act withholdings, and report earnings electronically. This is how we record your earnings and is how you earn Social Security retirement, disability, and survivors coverage for you and your family. A worker earns up to four Social Security credits each year and needs 40 credits, or 10 years of work, to qualify for retirement benefits. It's vital that you work at least 10 years to qualify for Social Security. The Social Security benefits system is progressive in that low-wage workers receive more benefits in relation to past earnings than do high-wage earners. Open a my Social Security account to verify your personal earnings and watch future benefits grow over time. Marriage is the start of a new chapter in your life. It is also an important life event that helps determine spousal benefits during retirement and loss. For some, a part of that new life is a new name. If you legally change your name due to marriage, divorce, or any other reason, let us know so you can get an updated Social Security card — and so we can accurately keep track of your earnings. There's no charge for a Social Security card. One in four of today's 20-year-olds will become disabled before they retire. Isn't it reassuring to know that Social Security is here to help even if the unexpected happens? Disability benefits provide modest coverage for severely disabled workers and their dependents, including our wounded warriors. Learn more on our Disability Facts page. The loss of a loved one can be both emotionally and financially difficult. Social Security helps by providing income for the families of workers who die. Widows, widowers, and their dependent children may be eligible for Social Security survivors' benefits. In fact, 98 of every 100 children could get benefits if a working parent dies. And Social Security pays more benefits to children than any other federal program. Our richly diverse country is made up of people with countless backgrounds and ethnicities; yet, we all want the same thing — a secure future. Fifty-one percent of the workforce in private industry has no private pension coverage. Thirty-one percent of workers report that they have no savings set aside specifically for retirement. Social Security is a lifeline for most retirees, keeping millions out of poverty. Sign-in or create a my Social Security account to verify your earnings and see an estimate of your benefits throughout your career and into retirement. When you are ready to retire, avoid the wait, retire online. With many living below the poverty line, it is important to know that Social Security administers the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program. The SSI program is a program that provides income support to people with disabilities and people who are age 65 or older, or blind, who have low income and resources. U.S. Treasury general funds, not the Social Security trust funds, pay for SSI. If you or someone you know may be eligible for SSI, visit SSI Benefits to learn more and apply. Social Security has two trust funds — Old-Age and Survivors Insurance (OASI) and Disability Insurance (DI). Historically, the OASI and DI Trust Funds have reached times where tax revenue fell short of the cost of providing benefits and also times where the trust funds have reached the brink of exhaustion of assets. However, Congress approved the Social Security Amendments of 1977 and 1983, which made substantial modifications that reversed the cash flow of the program to positive levels and caused the substantial buildup of assets to the $2.908 trillion asset reserves that existed as of December 31, 2020. The Social Security Trust Fund is fully funded through 2034. Even if legislative changes are not made before 2034, we'll still be able to pay 78 percent of each benefit due. Social Security has always changed to meet the needs of the people we serve and will continue to help support you and your family. Whether you are about to retire, become a full time grandparent, or start a new chapter, Social Security can help you secure today and tomorrow.
